

Valley Firemen Hold Closing Session Here

Clash Over "Fair" and "Unfair" Music Kept From Convention Floor—Association Has $2,940.42 in Bank—Membership of 1,189 and 325 Fire Companies—950 Delegates at Convention.

The thirty-ninth annual convention of the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association passed into history Wednesday afternoon when the valley firemen adjourned shortly after 1 o'clock and marched in a body to the state armory where they were entertained at a roast beef dinner and later taken for an automobile ride around the Ashokan reservoir. According to the report of the committee on credentials at the closing session there were 950 delegates who registered at the convention hall in the Knights of Columbus building on Broadway.

The expected clash over "fair" and "unfair" music, which had been causing the local committee in charge of the convention many restless moments, was kept from the convention floor, although the convention adopted a resolution recommending the music question to the board of directors of the association.

The attendance Wednesday morning at the closing session was much larger than on Tuesday when the convention opened, and after the opening prayer by the Rev. Dr. Frank B. Seelye of the Fair Street Reformed Church, the roll was called by Secretary Chris W. Noll, and the convention got down to business.

William Swarthout, treasurer of the State Firemen's Association, was introduced by President George T. Kelley, and delivered an address in which he outlined the changes the passing years had made. It was a far cry from horseback to airplane, from the buildings of 1777 to the present mammoth structures that adorned our cities. He said that the volunteer fire department had kept pace with the advancing times and were equipped with the most modern fire fighting equipment. In closing he urged those fire companies of the association that were not affiliated with the state association to come into the fold.

Judge Clearwater's Gift. Judge A. T. Clearwater sent in a communication which was read. He also presented the association with a photograph of the firemen's certificate issued to Solomon Brown, a former fire chief of Kingston.

Judge Henry E. McKenzie spoke briefly in moving that the gift be accepted and placed in the museum connected with the Firemen's Home at Hudson. Judge Clearwater said that he and Judge Clearwater had been boyhood chums and that a warm friendship still existed between them. In moving that the photographic copy of the certificate be accepted Judge McKenzie included in his motion that the chair appoint a committee to make the presentation to the directors of the Firemen's Home. The judge's motion was unanimously adopted.

President Kelley appointed as the committee Past Presidents Wiley, Street, Haasinger and McKenzie.

U. S. D. Is Thanked. A communication from the traffic manager of the Ulster & Delaware railroad calling attention to the fact that the day of the parade a special train would leave Kingston at 6 o'clock, standard time, was read, and on motion the railroad was given a vote of thanks for its cooperation.

Poughkeepsie Demonstrates. The meeting was then turned over to Frank E. Wiley, chairman of the topics committee, and he introduced Dr. H. W. B. Stubbs of Poughkeepsie, who staged a demonstration of rescue work with the aid of four members of the paid department of Poughkeepsie. The demonstration was interesting. Dr. Stubbs showed how the Poughkeepsie firemen worked in entering a building filled with smoke in search of any who had been overcome. The firemen also demonstrated artificial respiration and how to carry injured people from a building. He said that all of the paid men and many of the volunteers of the Poughkeepsie fire department had been trained in this work.

Secretary Davis Introduced. Secretary Davis of the State Association was introduced. He has been a member of the state association for over thirty years, and spoke briefly, congratulating the valley firemen on the work their association was accomplishing.

County Vice President's Reports. Secretary Noll reported that he had received the annual reports of the county vice presidents of the association, and as there was considerable business before the convention it was moved that the reports be received without being read and printed in the annual proceedings. The motion was adopted.

Troy For 1929. Members of the Exempt Firemen's Association of the city of Troy was given the privilege of the floor and said they desired to extend an invitation to the convention to meet in Troy in 1929.

Past President Samuel Fowler of Rensselaer said that he desired to extend the invitation to the convention on behalf of the city of Troy, which was a suburb of Rensselaer. In mentioning the advantages that Troy possessed to entertain the convention Mr. Fowler said that "Troy has the greatest drinking water in the state of New York due to its new reservoir."

"That's no reason we should go there," remarked President Kelly, "and that is the fact that the city of Troy has the best looking women in the world. I know for I got one there, and I want to tell you that my wife is one of the finest looking women that Troy has ever boasted of."

There were no other cities seeking the convention for next year and the invitation of Troy was accepted by acclamation.

Committee on Resolutions. The report of the committee on resolutions, of which Judge Henry E. McKenzie of Port Ewen was chairman, was read by Judge McKenzie and adopted. The report will be found elsewhere.

Credential Committee Reports. The final report of the committee on credentials was made by Chairman George B. Fales of Troy, who announced that 950 delegates were enrolled at this convention. The report was adopted.

Convention Reports. President Kelley announced that any delegate who desired to make a hit with his fire company should get in touch with Brother Fales and receive a copy of the convention report as prepared by Brother Fales. For many years Mr. Fales has been attending the sessions of the valley firemen and preparing reports of what was done on the convention floor. He is a member of the Troy Exempt Firemen's Association and a life member of the State Association.

Collection for Firemen's Home. During the session envelopes were passed among the delegates and a collection taken up for the Firemen's Home at Hudson. Later in the session it was reported that $220.82 had been collected. On motion the association voted to make the sum $300, the largest collection, according to President Kelly, ever taken up at any firemen's convention.

Secretary Noll's Report. Secretary Chris W. Noll of Poughkeepsie submitted his annual report. He said that the association now had 1,189 members with 325 fire companies enrolled.

Treasurer's Report. Treasurer Andrew J. Murphy of Kingston reported that the association had on hand the sum of $2,940.42 which was deposited with the Rondout National Bank.

Election of Officers. The election of officers was then taken up and the name of First Vice President William B. Martin of Kingston was placed in nomination for president of the association by Edward F. Moran, chairman of the local convention committee. It was promptly seconded and Mr. Martin was unanimously elected.

Second Vice President Mark Rosenthal of Hudson was elevated to first vice president and the convention elected Allen D. Brown of Port Jervis as second vice president.

The other officers, who were all re-elected, were: Secretary, Chris W. Noll of Poughkeepsie; Treasurer, Andrew J. Murphy of Kingston; and Past President, Frank E. Wiley of Suffern. The name of Edward F. Moran of Kingston in nomination. It was promptly seconded by William B. Martin and Mr. Moran was unanimously elected.

Kelly Presented Badge. At Tuesday's session of the convention the past presidents of the association had been presented with gold badges and at the closing session President George T. Kelly of Yonkers, the retiring president, was presented with a similar badge. The presentation was made by Mr. Frank of the board of directors.

President Kelly then turned the gavel over to President-elect William B. Martin, bringing the thirty-ninth annual convention to a successful close.

The delegates then formed in line in front of the convention hall, and headed by Costello's Band marched in a body to the state armory, where the local committee had prepared a dinner for the entertainment of delegates. Mayor E. J. Dempsey and other city officials were also entertained at the dinner. At the close the delegates were taken for a ride around the Ashokan reservoir.

Judge Clearwater Praises Firemen

No Organization Throughout the World More Affectionately Regarded Than Volunteer Firemen, He Says, in Presenting Relic to Valley Association.

The following is the letter of Judge Clearwater read at the luncheon given to the visiting firemen at the Armory Wednesday afternoon:

June 20, 1928.
To The Gentlemen of the Convention: It was to me a matter of profound regret that I was unable to accept the invitation of my friend, the Hon. William B. Martin, to dine with the former presidents of your association at the Hotel Stuyvesant last evening, and briefly to describe to you the symbolism of the badge presented to you by the firemen of Kingston.

The badge is surmounted by a miniature representation of the first seal of the Village of Kingston, a golden eagle with outstretched wings standing in front of a golden sunburst holding a palm branch in its talons.

Kingston settled by the Dutch in 1658, was burned by the Indians in 1678, and burned by the British forces under the command of Major General John Vaughan on the 16th of October, 1777.

Vaughan's vandalism in burning Kingston probably lost Burgoyne the Battle of Saratoga, and thereby prevented the separation of the eastern Colonies from those of New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and the south. The inspiration of the burning was that Kingston had been the meeting place of the Committee of Safety, the place of the inauguration of George Clinton, the first governor of the state under the Constitution, the place of meeting of the first Legislature, and of that of the first grand jury and first term of the Supreme court under the Constitution, and to punish its inhabitants because of the hospitality extended by them on those occasions. Vaughan burned the town. For this departure from the orders received by him from the British Commander-in-Chief, he severely was censured by the War Department at London.

In 1807, the village trustees, having determined to have a seal, with great wisdom and poetic instinct, selected the golden eagle of which at that time there were many in the Catskill and Shawangunk mountains, placed it in front of the rays of the rising sun, and in its talons instead of the usual olive branch, placed a palm branch indicative of their victory over the adverse conditions which had confronted Kingston from the time of its settlement.

The larger seal below the miniature copy of the original seal, represents the present seal of the city including the important dates in its existence, and a representation of the fort at the junction of the Rondout creek with the Hudson river. It is pre-eminently fitting that Kingston firemen should have made so felicitous a selection for a badge and souvenir of your meeting.

I present you now with a photograph of a certificate of one of the most distinguished firemen who lived in Kingston; that of Solomon Brown, who on the 3rd day of September, 1836, was nominated and duly appointed a member of Hook and Ladder Company No. 1, and subsequently appointed as foreman, on which certificate the original seal of the village which adorns your badge is impressed. Mr. Brown presented the original certificate to me over fifty years ago. Not only was he the foreman of his company, but he became the chief of the Kingston Fire Department, and subsequently the president of the board of directors of the village. Always he took the greatest interest in the welfare not only of the firemen of Kingston, but of all firemen who visited the place.

If any man be amiss for me to remind you that of all the voluntary organizations of ancient and modern civilization, the firemen are not only the oldest organization but the most beneficent. Early excavations in Greece and Rome, at Corinth, at Antioch and Carthage indicate that organizations of firemen have existed for many thousands of years, and the notable feature of the organization is that for thousands of years, it served without compensation as in the vast majority of communities it does to this day. Therefore, it is that no organization throughout the world more affectionately is regarded than that of the volunteer firemen. It is to the people of Kingston not only a pleasure, but an honor to have you with us.

"Splendid in personage, Conduct and equipage, Noble by heritage, Generous and free."

Always sincerely yours,
A. T. CLEARWATER.

Goldie Kline received the degree of Bachelor of Arts in Washington Square College.

East Kingston Play. The ladies of the Poughkeepsie Congregational Church will present the play "How the Ladies Earned Their Dollar," at the M. E. Church, of East Kingston, Friday evening, June 22. The performance will start at 8 o'clock. There will be ice cream and cake on sale.

Why The Freeman May Be Delayed

The Freeman has been printed today at the usual hour, or a little earlier, but may not be delivered to readers or newsdealers as early as usual. The delay, if any, is due to the congested traffic caused by the firemen's parade making it impossible for the delivery truck to reach newsdealers and carriers on time. Conditions such as prevail today do not, unfortunately, occur very often and it is hoped that those who suffer inconvenience will realize that conditions beyond the control of The Freeman are the cause.

Firemen Praise Kingston, Extend Thanks to All

Resolutions' Committee of Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association Neglects Nobody Who Helped to Make Visit Here Enjoyable—Officers Praised for Work.

The resolutions' committee of the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association submitted the following report at Wednesday's session, which was unanimously adopted:

To the officers and members of Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association: The present session of this association is being held in a city famous for its general history.

On ground trodden by the representatives of the past, there has been a mixture of the past, the present and the future, and the contingencies of warfare indulged in by savages and the cohorts of Great Britain preceding and during the American Revolution.

This city was the scene of many sanguinary activities 152 years ago, and as a result we as a part of this great commonwealth rejoice that we are the legatees of a great heritage, making it possible to be citizens of an adjunct of one of the greatest Republics in the world.

The Revolution resulted in our dissolution from the British Empire, its influence extended to France and was a good to the patriots of that country when the Bourbon regime was banished, and even the other countries of the world.

While we rejoice in the deeds performed, let us not forget that the early peoples of this country are to be praised for their efforts, for the patriotic, stubborn resistance to the arbitrary demands of Great Britain.

The great fundamental principle of government was declared to be common to all parts of the colonies and George III said he was grieved at the account of America.

During all of the Revolutionary activities no portion of the states exceeded that of the ancestors of those who now reside in the city in which we are now assembling.

The visitor can in his perambulations distinguish throughout this city many landmarks, tablets, buildings and monuments marking the sites where some notable event occurred.

A long time has intervened between the days of 1876 and today, but time has accorded to this Colonial city the most favorable results in educational, commercial, manufacturing, and in fact all of the interests have reached the height of a most successful existence.

It is therefore an acknowledged fact that the importance of this industrious city can not be lessened by the visitation of an organization so influential as our association.

It is not necessary at this time to specialize as to any particular business as there are so many of major importance.

During your time not occupied by the duties of this session, let yourself be the judge of the activities of the home industries by frequent inquiries and then personally investigate.

You will receive a gracious welcome wherever you may go. The members of the home fire department will accord you the welcome you deserve. The Fire Department is second to none of those composing this association; all of the most modern apparatus is employed and so well manned that the ordinary conflagration results hardly to appreciable dimensions. The personnel of the department is augmented by the fact that three of the most active and influential members occupy significant positions on the official roster of this body, if our reference is not sufficiently plain, your attention is especially called to the printed proceedings and its photograph, where you can recognize the physiognomy of our Vice President, William B. Martin, Treasurer Andy Murphy and Director William H. Kolts.

I would be remiss if I should refrain from mentioning some of the others who during the past and at the present time are using their best efforts accompanied by manifest interest in the propagation of our association and whose names are synonymous for integrity and conscientiousness, and whose intelligent qualities are extended for our success. Our President, George A. Kelley, whose reputation is significant; his knowledge is the result of long experience, and our safety is assured, there should be no

MUTINY REPORTED ABOARD LINER JERVIS BAY.

Colombo, Ceylon, June 21 (AP).—The Australian commonwealth liner Jervis Bay reported by wireless to Colombo this morning that there was a mutiny aboard.

Threats had been made to set the vessel afire, the message said.

An hour after the message was received a party of marines was sent to Trincomali to embark on the auxiliary steamer Slavov. The Slavov was ordered to go to Jervis Bay and bring the liner to Colombo.

The British cruiser Enterprise yesterday received a wireless message from the Jervis Bay, which left Adelaide on June 9 for London, stating that the vessel was having trouble with "eight desperate stowaways."

AUXILIARY TO BE HOSTS TO BENEFACTRESS GRADUATES

The members of this year's nurses' graduating class of the Benedictine Hospital will be entertained at a luncheon in the Rip Van Winkle Country Club, Palenville, Monday, June 25, by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the hospital. Members of the Auxiliary may attend the luncheon. Those who wish to be present are requested to inform Mrs. N. D. J. Murphy, chairman, not later than Friday morning, June 22.

In Jail for Assault. James Lyles is serving twenty days in Ulster county jail in default of paying a fine of $25 imposed by Justice of the Peace Speers, of the town of Ulster on Wednesday. He pleaded guilty to assault in the third degree. Lyles had James Spruill of East Kingston arrested, alleging he had threatened his life.

Spruill was found not guilty and then Lyles was placed under arrest, charged with having entered the room of complainant, Spruill, and hit him over the head, causing a wound that necessitated treatment by Dr. John F. Larkin of this city.

Miss Earhart Under Protection

By Scotland Yard Against Too Ardent Admirers and Cranks—Buys a Thousand Dollars Worth of Clothes, But Needs More.

London, June 21 (AP).—Scotland Yard took Miss Amelia Earhart under its protection today to guard her from too ardent admirers and cranks. The fame which came to her when she accomplished the first flight made by a woman across the Atlantic has brought a strain which seemed to be showing just a little on the Boston girl.

Miss Earhart cannot leave her hotel without being nearly rushed off her feet by admiring crowds, mostly women and girls. Each arrival of the postman adds to her fast accumulating stack of mail. Most of the letters are congratulations and invitations, but there is a sprinkling of queer requests from cranks and persons of curious temperament.

The number of crank letters alarmed Miss Earhart's friends. Therefore, unknown to the girl, an agent of Scotland Yard was assigned to watch over her.

Buying More Clothes. London, June 21 (AP).—Miss Amelia Earhart, between moments when she was the center of admiring gatherings, went shopping again today in company with Mrs. Frederick Guest, sponsor of the transatlantic flight of the Friendship.

Meanwhile a crowd stood vainly in front of her hotel in a drizzling rain hoping to catch a glimpse of her.

Miss Earhart already has bought a thousand dollars worth of clothes, but needs some more. She has been proceeding with her shopping scientifically, buying necessary frocks first and then doing miscellaneous purchasing.

While Miss Earhart shopped, Wilmer Stultz, pilot of the Friendship and Louis Gordon, mechanic, spent several hours at Croydon airport where they inspected the British airplanes used in the London-Paris service.

Following on the heels of hundreds of letters, poems have now begun to flock in upon Miss Earhart.

Miss Earhart awoke this morning in a richly furnished bed room in one of the finest mansions in England—the Park Lane town house of Mrs. Frederick Guest, sponsor of her flight.

Miss Earhart had planned to go to the home of the Guests during her stay in London, but went sooner than had been expected in order to escape the crowds and the publicity to which a transatlantic flyer is subjected in a London hotel.

EXCELSIOR HOSE BAND MAY GIVE FREE CONCERTS

As a number of the members of Excelsior Hose Company Band were unable to leave their work and would have to be in the firemen's parade today, the band concert that was to be held on Wednesday evening at the Elk's club house was not given.

Consent has been given by the house committee of Kingston Lodge, No. 550, to the band to use the upper porch of the club house, Fair street, on each Tuesday evening during the summer where they will give free band concerts for the benefit of the public. The generous offer no doubt will be highly appreciated.

Kingston Welcomes Brave Fire Laddies For Parade

Streets Present Colorful Appearance, Second Only to That of Fire Fighters, As One Hundred Companies, With Many Bands and Drum Corps, Assemble For Biggest Firemen's Parade in History of Hudson Valley—Formation of Parade.

The streets of historic Kingston, which to the mind of the marching foot of thousands of volunteer firemen this morning as they poured in to Kingston to take part this afternoon in the biggest parade in the history of the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association, which brought to a colorful close the Thirty-ninth Annual Convention of the valley firemen. From every village and hamlet, from city and rural district, the volunteers marched on Kingston, bringing with them the last word in modern fire fighting equipment.

All morning the sky was dark and overcast, threatening rain. As The Freeman went to press the fire companies were assembling in their appointed stations, and the formation of the big parade was underway. Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy, chairman of the parade committee of the convention, and the members of his committee had spent much time on arrangements for the success of the event, and that was apparent as the fire companies without a hitch marched to their appointed places.

Kingston's streets never presented a more colorful appearance than today. All along the line of March the buildings, both industrial and private residences, had been gaily decorated with bunting and the national colors in honor of the firemen, and the decorations of the buildings reflected the gay appearance of the uniforms of the marching fire companies.

Practically every place of importance in the Hudson valley was represented in the parade. The uniforms worn by the firemen were in strong contrast to the somber appearance of the skies overhead. Here and there were fire companies wearing the familiar red shirts while others wore the usual blue uniforms. Still other fire companies wore uniforms that outshone the resplendent glories of the sun, if it had been shining.

Fire Laddies Arrive Early. Some of the visiting fire companies arrived in Kingston Wednesday afternoon and evening and were entertained at the various fire houses where they had been assigned. All during the morning hours today the fire companies continued to pour into the city arriving by automobile, bus, train and boat.

The streets were alive with firemen hastening to the various fire houses in the city. As each fire company rolled into town they were met by a reception committee from the local fire company who had been assigned to entertain them while in the city.

It was expected that over one hundred fire companies would be ready to answer the five taps of the fire alarm which was the signal for the parade to start.

Ten Companies to Each Fire House. The numbers of the visiting fire companies was so large that about ten companies were assigned to each of the ten local fire companies. The visiting companies formed in line in front of the engine house which entertained them and from that point marched to the point where they were to fall in in the big parade. The fire companies waiting for the five taps on the fire alarm extended from Hasbrouck avenue and the Strand to East O'Reilly street and Hasbrouck avenue.

8,000 Firemen in Line. It was estimated that fully 8,000 firemen would take part in the parade representing over one hundred fire companies. Many of the fire companies were accompanied by bands and drum corps, whose gay uniforms added an attractive note of color to the parade.

Veterans Review Parade. About fifty members of the Firemen's Home at Hudson came to Kingston to review this morning and were entertained at dinner at the American Legion building on West O'Reilly street. After dinner they were escorted to seats on the reviewing stand at the city hall grounds.

State Troopers Aid Police. Police arrangements in care for the parade had been arranged by Chief of Police J. Allen Wood and he had the active cooperation of Captain Fox and a large detail of mounted State Troopers. The regular police force had been augmented for the day by a large number of special policemen and together with the State Troopers the total police force in the city today numbered fully 800.

As the visiting fire companies arrived in the city this morning they were escorted to the various engine houses where they were served with refreshments.

Many Changes in Ten Years. The parade of today gave a vivid

Visitors Turn in Ten False Alarms; No Fires in City

Some of the members of the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association disgraced the uniforms they wore Wednesday night and early this morning by seeing how many false alarms of fire they could turn in, but the fire department in charge of Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy were prepared, and none of the fire apparatus responded.

Fire Chief Murphy had laid his plans to answer all alarms of fire and the chief's car, equipped with chemical tanks, was sent out in charge of some of the members of the paid fire department whenever an alarm of fire was turned in. In case they found a fire they had received orders to turn in another alarm, calling out the apparatus. By this plan none of the heavy fire apparatus went out on fruitless calls. Fire Chief Murphy and Deputy Fire Chief Fred M. Levech were on duty all night at the Central Fire Station to care for any fire that might occur.

According to records on the police blotter some of the false alarms were turned in by several firemen dressed in red shirts who traveled in an automobile. There was also another crew of drunken firemen who traveled in an automobile who were also responsible. The first false alarm was turned in shortly after midnight and from then on until 4 o'clock this morning ten false alarms were rung in.

The Ten False Alarms. The false alarms were turned in from the following boxes:

At 12:36 a. m. Box 33, Abell and Hamilton streets.

At 12:40 a. m. Box 233, Hurley and Snyder avenues.

At 1:58 a. m. Box 92, Washington avenue and Main street.

At 2:11 a. m. Box 224, Prospect and Van Buren streets.

At 2:17 a. m. Box 27, Hone and Hunter street.

At 2:23 a. m. Box 19, East Union and Sycamore streets.

At 2:37 a. m. Box 42, Broadway and Spring streets.

At 3:50 a. m. Box 16, Delaware and Lindsay avenues.

At 3:59 a. m. Box 19, East Union and Sycamore streets.

At 4:05 a. m. Box 115, East Chester and Cassidy streets.

The three firemen in red shirts were about to turn in a false alarm at Box 14, Lindsay avenue and East Union street, when stopped by a citizen.

There were no fires in Kingston during the night.

Possible to Control

Coloring of Flowers

It is generally known that the colors of vegetation vary in intensity in direct ratio to the amount of sunlight, combined with coolness or temperature, within certain limits. Examples are the intense redness of apples grown in northern climates, and the deep colors of Alpine vegetation. But the soil and other influences also have an effect upon plant colors.

Experiments have been made within recent years with reference to the question of artificial control of the colors of plants through the introduction of such chemicals into the soil in which they grow. In very small quantities such chemicals are absorbed without apparent injury, but the effect upon the colors is slight. Yellow roses appear to become deeper in color under the influence of aluminum sulphate and potassium sulphate. With the use of these same chemicals the petals of the white carnation showed a tendency to develop red streaks, while when fed with ammonium sulphate, aluminum sulphate, iron citrate and citric acid scarlet carnations tended to form white streaks.

GIRLS' CHIEF ALLURE ANNOUNCED

Movie directors say greatest charm is Smooth Skin

LOS ANGELES, CAL. — "The flowerlike beauty of smooth skin is a real power—it captivates," says Edwin Carewe, director for United Artists. Beautiful eyes, a perfect mouth, glorious hair—none of these mean as much as a radiant youthful skin, says Hollywood. Under the blaze of the Klieg lights nothing else will do. No make-up is clever enough to fake the velvety texture necessary for the close-ups. In Hollywood they call it "studio skin" and give it the tenderest care.

Nine out of ten screen stars are using Lux Toilet Soap to keep their skin in perfect condition. This new soap is prepared by the famous method France perfected and was for her finest soaps. Virginia Valla says, "I delight in the marvelous velvety way it leaves my skin—only costly French soaps can compare with it."

All the big moving picture studios have placed it in their dressing rooms as the official soap. Lux Toilet Soap is manufactured by Lever Bros. Co., at Cambridge, Massachusetts.

Dividends of Convenience

IN NO one month of our history have telephone subscribers in New York State ever declared for themselves as many continuing dividends of comfort and convenience as in May of this year.

During that month orders to install nearly 36,000 extension telephones were received.

Coming in at the rate of more than 1,100 a day, these 36,000 extension telephones testify to the ever-increasing appreciation of the part that adequate telephones play in the home and office. The action of these alert users assures added comfort and convenience as well as more rapid conversational contact.

An extension telephone is more than just another telephone. It's a convenient service that lightens the work in the home, saves tiring trips up and downstairs, provides desirable privacy, permits a more efficient handling of business, makes for quicker service between the caller and the person called. In short they insure a more complete, a more usable, a more satisfactory service.

the two story frame barns and horses quartered in the buildings at the time were driven out by the troopers who discovered the blaze when flames shot through the roof.

"Coolidge Grit", an international champion bulldog owned by Sergeant Frank Hutton, was killed by the fire. The Troy fire department had to lay hose lines from hydrants 150 feet away. So intense was the heat that it was impossible to approach nearer than fifty feet from the buildings. The barns and stables are approximately seventy feet from the troopers' quarters which were not in danger.More than 4,000 were attracted by the flames which were visible for miles around. When police and firemen arrived, the horses which had been let out of the stable were corralled in the paddock. There were twenty-seven horses and three colts stabled. A mare and her colt refused to leave and had to be led through the burning barn by Troop-

Smiles

By Grace Jewett Austin

Grace J. Austin, for a visiting guest, you are probably saying: "Now is the time for all good women to give a luncheon or party."Dame Fashion thinks that one of the nicest things to give anyone "pep" for a daytime party is a new hat. She had such a good time recently, making a hat pilgrimage, and of course, seeing a great many more hats than the modest one needed for her aforesaid parties. Many black hats just now have a wonderfully Parisian air, and with their lightweight braids are so delightfully cool and comfortable.
Those trimmed in various ways and patterns with silver nail-heads are especially effective.There is a great fascination in the hats of this season whose crowns are practically covered with feathers, soft little feathers of many a shape and color. Blue and white coque feathers make a hat that is softly feminine, while pheasant feathers always have a special grace of their own.Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, as the "first lady of the land," nearly always appears in a brimmed hat of more or less width, and as the sun grows hotter and hotter, she may seem more and more in style. For it cannot be denied there has been a general adherence to the small brimmed or even brimless hat.Dame Fashion saw recently such a lovely "bridesmaid's hat," all picturesque with its wide brim of lightest weight braid, and covered with filmy lace. It would guarantee that a bridesmaid who wore it would be beautiful, and though the bride is the only one who is supposed to count, it would be no more than human if the bridesmaids did not wish a little special loveliness to come their way, also.
One of Mrs. Coolidge's favorite wide brims is of taupe horsehair braid, lined with mauve and lilac, and with a trimming at the side of two large pink roses shading into mauve.Shopping can be made a wearisome duty, or a social delight, almost as one chooses. Dame Fashion the other afternoon spent a few hours in this way as entertainingly as at any party. A young woman took her to the shopping district in a pretty new car; she found almost at once a bargain in silk princess-ships that she had been desiring; a certain toilet preparation she had been seeking also materialized, and the young woman in charge was so beautiful that Dame Fashion could really believe her when she declared it was unnecessary ever to have a wrinkle!Every party should have its refreshments, and Dame Fashion met a hospitable friend who hid her away to eat an ambrosial concoction with about twenty ingredients, telling meanwhile a story of romance she had just learned from the Southland. Do you wonder that Dame Fashion journeyed homeward in a comfortable, democratic "bus" in a most beneficent frame of mind?

KINGSTON, N. Y., JUNE 21, 1928.

One is not surprised at the President's disapproval of the increased expenditures of State and local governments, although Federal expenditures are increasing so rapidly that estimates for 1929 total nearly four billions. What surprises is his intimation that the former are contributing to unemployment. A remedy for unemployment urged even by members of his own Cabinet is an enlarged program of public works by the States, inevitably involving increased expenditures.

Non-partisan and experienced observers will share the same view expressed by a leading independent American newspaper as follows: "American business will be as safe in the hands of Herbert Hoover or Alfred E. Smith as in the hands of Calvin Coolidge. It is childish nonsense to suppose that Mr. Coolidge alone has the secret of prosperity or that any President, Republican or Democratic, conservative or progressive, would or could disturb the tremendous structure of American industrialism."

SPECULATIVE FEVER.

Explaining the plight of an army of sad stock speculators, a Wall Street reporter says: "A speculative fever has swept over the entire country in the last three months, bringing into brokerage offices the usual new crop of speculators largely unfamiliar with investment values. Without experience in a declining market to teach them caution, they have consistently ignored warnings of conservative bankers that the storm was likely to break. A horde of such speculators have not only seen their handsome paper profits wiped out in less than a fortnight, but are now 'in the red' unable to meet the margin calls of their brokers."

Good advice is seldom followed. We learn little except by our own experience, and often learn little by that. Optimistic human nature is loath to believe that what goes up must come down, or that there is any limit to the top of the bull market. So there must be a new crop of victims about every so often, to reconcile people to home payments and savings bank interest rates.

MULTIPLYING WILD LIFE

Referring to the acquisition of another game preserve by Pennsylvania's board of game commissioners, the Philadelphia Record notes that there were already 34 such preserves besides 67 auxiliary game refuges in the state, and says:

As a result of wise legislation, reasonably enforced, for the protection of wild life, Pennsylvania has become the greatest hunting state in the Union. Not even the states of the Rocky Mountains can show such an abundance of deer, bear, elk and smaller animals as are to be found here, notwithstanding the density of population. As a natural consequence the number of hunters taking out licenses has increased amazingly. In 1915 there were 262,355 such resident sportsmen and 532 non-resident—figures which by 1926 had risen to 500,574 and 3,505 respectively. This nearly sevenfold increase in the number of non-resident hunters is particularly significant of the popularity of Pennsylvania as a game paradise among the people of other commonwealths.

This showing and previous ones of like significance are proof of what can be done in the matter of multiplying game by wise legislation and enforcement thereof, especially in favoring territory. Pennsylvania's achievement is worthy of the study and emulation of many states lagging behind in this particular.

RELICS RESTORED

It is interesting to learn that the historic monuments of Williamsburg, the old colonial capital of Virginia, are to be saved from decay—the capitol in which Patrick Henry eloquently declaimed, Governor Fauquier's "palace" and its green, the first American theatre, the old church built in 1578, William and Mary college, the oldest but one in this country, and Raleigh Tavern in which Phi Beta Kappa, the oldest American college fraternity, came to life. Williamsburg is rich in both relics and historic names. Though more remembered at Charlottesville and Monticello, Jefferson was coaxed with John Marshall, James Monroe, Edmund Randolph and Henry Clay among the students of the old college designed by Sir Christopher Wren. Lee also was represented by worthy ancestors in its halls. Williamsburg's headquarters were at Williamsburg when he planned the flight at Yorktown, and there Blackbeard's men were hanged for piracy.

The original Williamsburg is to "rise again" through the restoration of its historic monuments that have been destroyed or have fallen to decay. Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., having generously offered to "pay for the whole thing, whatever it costs." Thus the plan to save all that should be saved, from "vandalism" and the ravage of time, has been assured. Williamsburg was settled in 1632 and was the capital of Virginia until 1779. William and Mary college, the oldest in this country after Harvard, was chartered by the British monarchs so named in 1693. In addition to the losses suffered in the Revolution and in the war of 1861-5, the college buildings were three times destroyed by fire. Crowding misfortunes drove the old institution at last to close its doors in 1881, but they were reopened seven years later.

MAN VERSUS INSECTS.

Thinking men have been telling us for some years now that insects, small organisms, will so increase in number and strength that man will be destroyed from the face of the earth.

And when we think of what organisms can do to man, animal, fish, vegetable, and fruit, we cannot but realize that there may be some truth in the statement.

However, it would seem that the Creator by giving man an enquiring mind has made it possible for him to keep ahead of these organisms. I have spoken before about the bacteriophages discovered by Dr. d'Herelle, which are small organisms having the power of fastening themselves on harmful organisms and destroying them.

Down in Brazil there are many cases of dysentery due to the organisms of dysentery, and the use of these bacteriophages causes the rapid disappearance of dysentery when an epidemic arises.

In Indo-China d'Herelle succeeded in stopping the epidemic disease affecting buffaloes, which had carried off from twenty to thirty thousand annually.

He was sent to Egypt and India by the British government to study cholera. He found entire villages in India completely free from cholera though an epidemic raged around them, owing to the fact that there bacteriophages were found in the drinking water of these villages.

D'Herelle succeeded in removing the disease in these other villages and preventing further attacks upon the inhabitants, by transferring to the wells of the country, cultures of the bacteriophages from the wells of these villages where there was no dysentery.

By giving a small quantity by mouth, the bacteriophages reached the intestine when it found an abundant food supply, and a cure was effected with surprising rapidity.

The death rate counting even the most severe cases was eight per cent in the patients treated with the bacteriophages, and 62 per cent in those not treated.

As you know, there has been considerable controversy concerning d'Herelle's work but these figures just about tell the story.

Thus you see that man's brain, man's knowledge, man's inquiring mind, man's desire to relieve suffering among his fellows, man's desire to conquer the ailments of life, should make him victor in his struggle to remain here upon this goodly earth.

For Rivers and Harbors

While an appropriation of $20,000 was made in 1902 for the construction of public piers at Philadelphia and one of $22,700 in 1922 for a harbor of refuge in Delaware bay, the first approach to a rivers and harbors bill was made in 1826, when about $150,000 was appropriated for carrying on work in about twenty localities.

STONE RIDGE.

Stone Ridge, June 21.—Mrs. Jane Auchmoody and Mrs. Thompson from Iowa and Mrs. Decker and Mrs. Gasley from Accord visited with the Misses Julia and Josephine Hasbrouck the past week.

Children's Day will be observed at the Methodist Church next Sunday. At the service beginning at 10:30 a. m. a program will be rendered by the boys and girls under the supervision of their teachers. Infant baptism will be administered at this service.

It was announced last Sunday by the pastor of the Methodist Church that plans are being made for new activities for the young people of the church.

Mrs. Ralph Sahler spent the last week end with her parents at Bearsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto of Paterson, N. J., who were recently married, spent Sunday afternoon and evening at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. C. Van Tol. On Monday morning they left for Niagara Falls, where they will spend a brief honeymoon. Both are employed at the George Hardy Payne Studios in Paterson.

The many friends of Alfred Hasbrouck are extending their congratulations to him for his good fortune in winning the watch given to the lucky graduate by Safford & Scudder of Kingston.

Children's Day will be observed at the Reformed Church on July 1. This will be a program made up of Children's Day recitations as well as patriotic numbers. Baptism will be administered at this service. The church and the Sunday school will combine on this day. The time is 10:30 o'clock, the hour of the regular Sabbath worship.

On June 28, at 8 o'clock, standard time, a play will be presented at the Grange Hall under the auspices of the Reformed Church. The title of the play is "Receiving the Parson" and is a tantalizing tangle from beginning to end. Not until the play is almost completed are all the tangles smoothed out. This is a musical entertainment in two parts and covers one hour and thirty minutes.

Services at the Reformed Church

The aviator who proposes to fly from Detroit to London ought to be able to get some good advice from five or six men who have got across the Atlantic without complaining about the flying station service.

What we wonder about, a little, is whether the United States Geographical Survey party which has found a new river, a new lake and a new volcano in Alaska has much trouble at home finding a space to park.

STYLE • POWER • SPEED • STRENGTH

THOUGH he may first have been attracted by the brilliant new beauty and distinction of the Century Six or Eight, any Hupmobile owner will tell you that sparkling performance comes foremost in the list of his car's fine qualities. Power, rated not in spasmodic bursts of speed, but in the manner in which these superlative high compression engines settle down to their tasks, sweetly and smoothly without visible effort or strain. Steering ease that eliminates the last vestige of driving fatigue. Brakes that will stop the car "on a dime," yet cannot squeak or rattle no matter how hard they are applied. Mechanically, the new Century Hupmobiles are as far in the van of Twentieth Century motoring progress, as the modish body styles and luxury with which they are surrounded. Prove this statement to your own satisfaction by an hour or a day's test in a Century Six or Eight.

24 body and equipment combinations, standard and custom, on each line. Six of the Century, $1345 to $1625. Century Eight, $1625 to $2105. All prices f. o. b. Detroit.

Singing Crickets

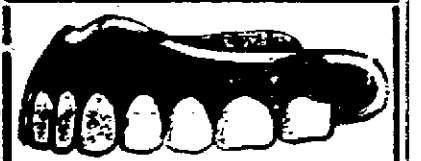

One of the most curious things to be seen in Japan, alike in the houses of rich and poor, is a small cage of bamboo fibers in which are housed singing crickets. The male only has the "voice," which can hardly be called a singing voice because the sounds emitted are much more metallic than those which ordinarily proceed from the throat of a bird. The westerner who hears these sounds for the first time starts up under the impression that he is hearing an electric call bell. In order to execute his song, the cricket goes through a very amusing performance. He raises himself on his front feet, grasps with the others a kind of "platform" arranged in the cage for his convenience, expands his wing-shells and rubs them against each other with great rapidity. The rhythm of the movement varies with individuals and this explains how the sound produced offers a certain variety in meter as well as in pitch.

Misunderstood

A foreign looking man, who only spoke a little English and that with the greatest of difficulty, was trying to find suitable apartments. Eventually he managed to make one landlady understand his peculiar intonations. "So you want three rooms and a bath, do you?" she repeated, when at last she understood him. The foreigner blushed. "I need the three rooms, certainly," he replied indignantly. "But a bath, that is not so much of your business, you?"—London Answers.

What should one really talk about? If you talk about yourself, you're conceited. If you talk about your business, you're a "shop talker." If you talk too much, you're a bore. If you haven't anything to talk about, you're uninteresting. If you talk about your baby or your club affiliations, you're a Babbitt. If you talk about people, you're a knocker. If you talk sweetly about a friend you're a log-roller. If you talk about art, you're a highbrow, and if you don't talk at all, you're a high-bat!—New York Graphic.

It was Thursday and Wilkins was "bored." He was hungry too. Halting outside a butcher's shop, he gazed wistfully at the display of chops and steaks in the window. At last the sight was too much for him. Flushing up his courage, Wilkins entered the shop.

"If I have a security equal to what I see away, will you trust me till tomorrow?" he asked.

"Certainly," replied the butcher.

"Well," said Wilkins, "give me a couple of those joints and keep one of them till I come back."

Bill: Why don't you like to play "Post-Office?"

Jim: None of the girls seem satisfied with the male they get.

Ever see a fellow so bad he couldn't get a few recommendations?

A good woman is hard to find. And much harder to keep good.

A girl's idea of a low heel is approximately as high as her idea of a long skirt is short.

A hick town is a place where a preacher can't hold a job unless he's humble enough to please the local rich man.

Richard—Did you fill your date last night?

William—I hope so. She ate everything in sight.

If a liar gets religion it's hard for him to keep from exaggerating about the joys of heaven.

Lindbergh doesn't like bull fighting nor bull slinging but has had to endure a lot of both.

She—Did I ever show you the place where I hurt my hip?

He—No.

She—All right, we'll drive over there.

Fable—Once there was a pretty man who didn't think his wife mighty lucky to have him.

The stars make up what we are. Dotted hair, short skirts and police dogs were wished on us by movie stars.

"Is that skirt too short?" asked Mrs.

"Great heavens, woman!" cried Mr. "Of course it is!"

"Good!"

The supercilious young man was being shown to his room in a small seaside hotel.

"This will do," he said patronizingly. "And—er—I suppose everyone here dresses for dinner?"

"Oh, yes, sir," replied the very young chambermaid, "meals in bed is charged extra."

When a Chinese is puzzled, he scratches his foot instead of his head. That seems a strange thing to do, but, after all, one operation is quite likely to be as helpful as the other.

No man, however, insignificant he looks, questions your judgment when you tell him he looks distinguished.

Relic of Ancient Race

The oldest relic of the early ages yet found in Yorkshire, England, is believed to be an ancient stone implement discovered at Eton Nab, near Middlesborough. It is said to be about 75,000 years old. The discovery, some think, establishes for the first time the existence of a race of subhuman beings in northern Britain.

NASH presents a New and Finer Motor Car

New Twin Ignition Motor New Salon Bodies

"The three new Nash Series, which are being introduced everywhere today, achieve the ambition of my manufacturing career.

"They represent an entirely new type of motor car, priced moderately, but offering you all the beauty and quality and performance heretofore exclusive to very expensive automobiles.

"To create such a car we had to develop an entirely new type of design and invest over $2,500,000 in dies and machinery alone.

"Both the Salon bodies and the high compression motors which power these new models exemplify the most radically modern advancement in body craftsmanship and engineering.

"Naturally space precludes the full listing of all features but I do want to draw your attention to a number of the outstanding attractions such as:—

"—Twin ignition, high compression, Bohnalite aluminum alloy pistons with Invar-struts, 7-bearing crankshaft with hollowed crankpins, Bijur centralized chassis lubrication, Houdaille and Lovejoy shock absorbers, Biflex-Nash bumpers and bumperettes, chrome plating over nickel for all exterior metal ware, double-drop frame, one-piece. Salon fenders and longer wheelbase lengths.

"This new-type engineering of the '400' motors makes them by far the best performing cars I have ever built.

"I don't think anyone will ever want to use all the speed and power they deliver.

"Equipment is absolutely complete at the factory list price and you need buy no extras except a spare tire.

"If my judgment is worth anything you will find it well worth while today to examine this new automobile development with the greatest care."

COTTAGE IN TREE TOPS MAVEN FOR HONEYMOONERS

Love Nest Built by Pennsylvania Farmer Is Occupied Most of the Year.

Hellam, Pa.—A cottage in the tree tops, surrounded by a myriad brilliant-colored lights and overlooking a placid little brook—that is the honeymoon ideal as conceived by Morgan Emig, a farmer near here.

And the strange part of it all is that Emig has built this love nest for the benefit of others and it has already been used by honeymooners from all parts of the country.

Situated among the branches of a huge buttonwood tree, the cottage is equipped as thoroughly as any of its size on the ground, containing electric light, dishes, stove for cooking, complete bedroom and living room suites and has porches on three sides.

To approach the love nest, one must first enter Emig's farm and traverse the quarter mile between the main highway and the cottage.

On arrival there is a flight of steps leading up the trunk of the tree to a height of about twenty-five feet, where they turn and lead out along a branch to a spot directly over the stream, where the cottage is located.

The cottage rests on beams supported by steel cables and was built about eight years ago.

"I first got the idea when a bunch of kids wanted to build a treehouse and laid a platform in the branches," Emig said. "I then wondered why a substantial house could not be made there and started work. Each year I made improvements and added a little something, but now, in my estimation, it is about perfect."

The cottage is weatherproof and even has a back yard. Scattered about among the branches and amid the many colored lights are chairs and benches for use in the summer, as Emig says his house is occupied virtually the year round.

Aside from its use by honeymooners, Emig rents the cottage for card parties, dances and like social gatherings. A radio is provided with two loud speakers, one located in the cottage and the other in the top of the tree. "At one time there have been as many as 26 persons dancing in the cottage and at card parties there have been four tables in play," Emig said.

"Of course, it is making the money, as it is in use the year around and I charge rental for the use of it, but the biggest kick I get out of it is from the honeymooners and others who get the benefit of it," he said, "and I have a lot of fun improving it."

At night the tunes from the loud speaker can be heard on the main York to Harrisburg road a quarter of a mile away and the lights in the huge tree can be seen from a great distance, resembling a monster Christmas tree.

Will Power Urged as "Theater Cough" Cure

Paris.—Will power is suggested as a sovereign remedy for the "theater cough," always a disturbing factor at the play.

Paul Glinist, president of the Association of Dramatic Critics, has been observing the malady, trying to analyze it, and seeking the remedy.

Throat trouble, he is convinced, has little to do with this cough which he dubs "theatralis tussis." The first cough is contagious. The disease spreads rapidly, becomes entirely quiet under the intense emotion when the villain gets in his dirty work or the hero proves he is a hero and it vanishes entirely when the audience passes out into the cold night air where the sudden change might have been expected to cause a real cough.

All these observations convince Glinist that the theater cough can be stopped by a little firm politeness on the part of the coughers.

"There are troubles enough with the ushers who blackmail us, the check-room women who hold our hats and coats for ransom, the noisy program sellers, the bad actors, homely actresses and many other things," he says, "without the cough which is unnecessary."

To Get $142,500 for Making Cannon Safer

Washington.—A draftsman in the War department is to be rewarded by his government for inventions of mechanisms making the firing of cannon safer. Congress so decided with the approval of the house of a senate bill awarding a $142,500 payment to the inventor.

John W. Stockett, who has served as a draftsman with the War department for more than a quarter of a century, devised five inventions at the time of the Spanish-American war improving the breech closing and firing mechanisms of cannon which were accepted by the government as superior to the devices of two foreign companies.

Compensation was refused Stockett at the time of their acceptance on the ground that "it had been his business as an employee of the War department."

A Significant Comparison in Gas Rates

The new optional gas rate for the city of Kingston not only offers a substantial reduction to customers making normal use of the service, but, what is more important, gives them an opportunity to make additional use of gas in the home at little increase in cost.

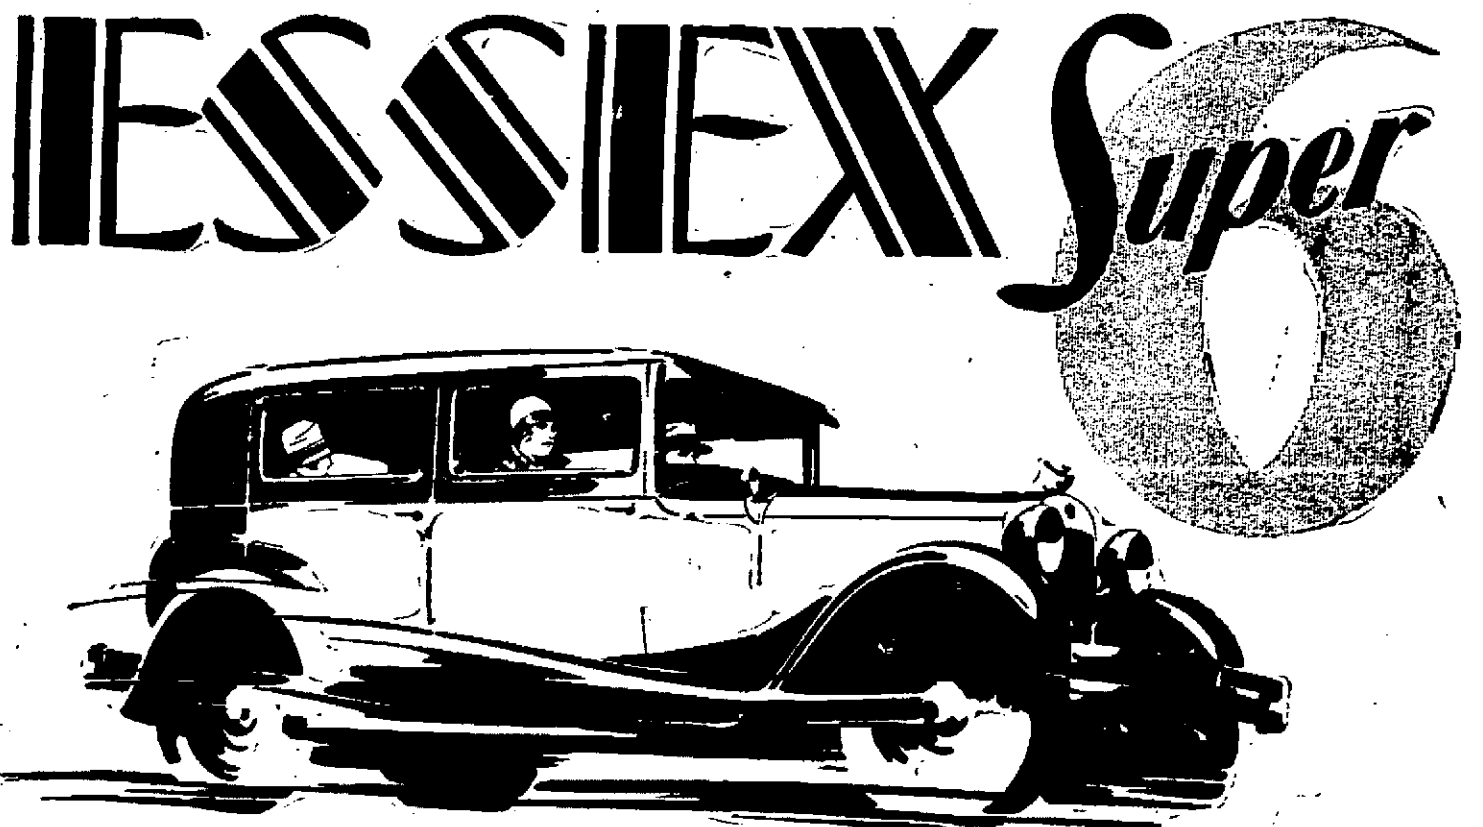

The following comparison of typical monthly bills for various residential uses of gas under the present open rate which will not be withdrawn and under the new optional rate, clearly shows the advantage of using the latter:

| | OLD OPEN RATE | NEW OPTIONAL RATE | PER CENT OF SAVING TO CUSTOMER |
|----------------------|---------------|-------------------|--------------------------------|
| Range | | | |
| Storage Water Heater | $7.92 | $6.91 | 12.6 |
| Range | | | |

| Radiant Heater | | | |

This tabulation does not include the use of gas in central house heating plants. The relation of the new gas rate to this use will be explained in a later advertisement.

The Essex Super-Six is outselling, and all this year has outsold, every other "Six" by such margins that comparison is only a gesture.

For it needs no expert to see—what every expert knows—that such an array of values was never before presented within hundreds of dollars of the price.

Your first glance tells that. But more important, you can examine this Essex, part by part, and in each item, whether it is the upholstery used, or the costliest type of four-wheel brakes, or the use of vertical shutters, demonstrate a superiority of quality and actual margins of costlier materials and workmanship.

To know the overpowering conviction of greatest value held by Essex owners is merely to see Essex beauty, to examine Essex quality, to sit inside and feel Essex comfort—to ride and know Essex performance.

SHRINE TO MARK CLARK'S BRAVERY

Memorial to Rise on the Site of Fort He Retook
From British.

Indianapolis—Action by congress, and approved by President Coolidge, has given assurance that there will arise on the site of Fort Sackville in Vincennes a noble memorial to George Rogers Clark, who conquered the British and wrested from them control of the old Northwest on that spot 150 years ago next February 23.

An appropriation of $1,000,000 by congress for construction of the memorial, and appropriations by the state of Indiana and city of Vincennes totaling nearly $700,000 to buy the site, now covered with commercial and industrial buildings, and to construct adequate approaches to the memorial, make it possible to build the greatest historic shrine west of the Alleghenies.

The event to be commemorated was one of the bravest and most dramatic episodes of our national history. George Rogers Clark, twenty-six, and commander of the militia in the county of Kentucky, envisioned the peril to the revolutionary cause in British-inspired Indian raids from the territory northwest of the Ohio against the frontier settlers.

Shot Falls During Eclipse. After great difficulty he obtained from the Virginia legislative council a secret order to organize the frontiersmen and march against the British posts in the Northwest. Little bands of pioneers were formed and eventually about 200 gathered at the rendezvous on Corn Island in the Ohio river at the falls where Louisville now stands.

There, on June 24, 1778, they set forth, shooting the falls at the moment of a partial eclipse of the sun. Down the Ohio to old Fort Massac, near the present town of Metropolis, Ill., and thence through the plains and wilderness to attack the British post at Kaskaskia their route lay.

The little garrison at Kaskaskia was thoroughly surprised, not dreaming of an attack from the harassed Kentuckians. On July 4, 1778 the post was captured without the firing of a shot while the garrison was in town at a dance. Kaskaskia, a British post several miles away, also soon was taken without difficulty, and the British post at Vincennes.

But at Detroit, territorial capital, Henry Hamilton, the governor, organized a force of British regulars, Creole volunteers and Indians, and led them down the Wabash to Vincennes. Clark's lieutenant surrendered, with Clark far away at Kaskaskia. Winter set in. Hamilton placed the fort in good repair and arranged affairs for a speedy crushing of the Americans at Kaskaskia when spring should come.

Clark's situation was desperate. Cut off from his home base, he determined to do the so-called impossible—attack the British regulars at Vincennes. In mid-winter his men and the Kaskaskia Creoles, who volunteered for his service, set out for Vincennes. In a few days they reached the "drowned lands" of Illinois. Clark led his men through icy waters, mile after mile. The last few days they were without food.

Clark Recaptures Fort. Yet in the face of these hardships the pioneer men finally reached Vincennes, renewed their courage and attacked a superior, well-trained enemy intrenched in a newly repaired fort. Hamilton and his men were so taken by surprise and shaken by the unerring accuracy of the Kentucky riflemen, and he was so deceived as to the force of Americans that he at length proposed capitulation. Only unconditional surrender was acceptable, and that he finally gave. British colors then were lowered, and domination of the region northwest of the Ohio passed over to the new United States.

It is to commemorate Clark's deed on its 150th anniversary that the memorial movement was begun. The Indiana commission tentatively has proposed that a hall of history be erected on the site of Fort Sackville, commemorating in mural painting and sculpture the winning of the region and its subsequent development.

Thin-Skinned Oranges. Because of the ease with which the skin may be separated from the pulp, the tangerine, the satsuma, and the mandarin are popularly known as kid-glove oranges.

Work of Rotary Reviewed for Year

Activities of Kingston Rotary Club Summarized in Annual Report of Secretary—Club Fully Awake to Its Opportunities.
 Guests from Rochester, New York and Pasadena were present at the Rotary luncheon this week at the Governor Clinton Hotel, the California guest being William Michael, son of President Michael of the Kingston Rotary Club. There was no speaker, the time being taken up with official reports made at what was practically the closing session of the fiscal year. Various committee chairmen reported various activities, or no activities, as the interests of truth demanded, and Secretary Coe presented his annual report in which the work of the year was briefly reviewed as follows:

Under the efficient leadership of President "Mike," Kingston Rotary has finished a year's work that should stand out as one of the best in the history of the club.

In numbers we can show a net gain of two, our present membership numbering fifty-five. Because of removal from the city, Ken Everett and Martin Neely found it necessary to present their resignations and Arthur Morrill found it impossible, because of business conditions, to keep up his attendance, and so like the good Rotarian that he was he also presented his resignation. We regret the loss of these men from our club roster but wish them the best of success in their various fields of work.

It has been our pleasure to welcome into our membership the following men and we know that our club has been strengthened by their presence: Jay Terry, George Hafford, Ray Elmendorf, Roland Battles, and Alex. Ferguson.

Our average attendance for the year of 88 per cent is better than that of the year previous, by a slight margin. This puts our club very close to the head of the 80 per cent class, but it leaves us in that intermediate class, which means that we are just an average club in the matter of attendance. Let us strive this year to boost our attendance so that we can boast at the end of this year of being classed among those clubs having the highest attendance records. Every member will gain, personally, by a regular attendance and the club will be strengthened tremendously.

Rotarians Boessneck, Burgevin, Hall and Willson can claim membership in our 100 per cent club, having a perfect record of attendance for the entire year.

Several high spots in the club's activities deserve special mention, notably, the Inter-City Meet held on October 5th of last year in which Rotarians from Hudson, Catskill, Poughkeepsie, Newburgh, Middletown, Monticello and Port Jervis participated, Kingston Rotary Club acting as host.

Another event which brought pleasure to many Kingstonians was the engagement of the United States Marine Band. Because of the low price of admission, many of our school children were afforded the opportunity of attending a splendid concert on the afternoon of that day. That they were intensely interested was evidenced by their behavior during the entire time. The committee in charge of arrangements for this concert deserve the commendation of the club.

Mention should also be made of the inter-club meetings of Rotary and Kiwanis which have proved so enjoyable and profitable to the membership of both clubs.

I think we should at this time bear witness to uniformly splendid service rendered the club by the management of the hotel. Al has certainly upheld his end in giving real service to his fellow club members and not alone to them but to the stranger that has come within the doors of the Governor Clinton thus giving a good impression of our community which has spread to an increasing distance.

As we enter a new year of our club life may we be ever awake to render to each other and to our community that unselfish service which is the foundation of Rotary.

A Delicious New Jam You Can Make from STRAWBERRIES and PINEAPPLE in 15 minutes

This recipe for Mixed Pineapple and Strawberry Jam is very popular.

No finer blend of flavors can be imagined than that of the delicately luscious strawberry with the refreshing tartness of ripe, juicy pineapple. Many women like this recipe, too, for its economy, since the pineapple makes your strawberries go so much further.

Crush to a fine pulp about 1 quart ripe berries. Put pineapple (fresh or canned) through food chopper, or chop very fine. Measure 2 level cups of each fruit into large kettle. In case of slight shortage of one fruit, use enough of the other fruit to make 4 cups total. Add 7 level cups (3 lbs.) sugar and mix well. Use hottest fire and stir constantly before and while boiling. Bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard for 1 minute. Remove from fire and stir in 1/2 cup Certo. Skim, pour quickly, and cover hot jam at once with hot paraffin wax.

Certo is the natural jellifying substance extracted from fruit, refined and bottled so that you may use it with all fruits to get a quick, perfect "set" without long boiling.

With the delicately flavored pineapple and strawberry the advantages of the Certo method are especially noticeable. For Certo not only makes these difficult fruits jelly perfectly every time, but the short boil, possible only with Certo, prevents the loss of fresh flavor and color which occurs during long boiling.

"Certo way the best way" says eminent cooking expert

Miss Alice Bradley, Principal, Miss Farmer's School of Cookery and Cooking Editor, Woman's Home Companion, says—"One trial will convince you that the best way to make jams and jellies is 'The Certo Way'."

Your grocer has Certo. A book of simple, tested recipes comes under the label of each bottle.

ELEANOR GUNN ON FASHIONS

A Model That Is Capable of Many Variations Is a Wise Investment—Ruffles, Pleated or on Bias, Are a Summer Delight.

New York—It is becoming rather the thing to duplicate a successful model in a variety of materials. There are those who believe it is the part of wisdom to spend a goodly sum for a smart model from one of the better-class houses, and have this model copied in assorted colors and fabrics.

Many French women practice this little trick. It seems immaterial to them whether one is conscious that their wardrobe has grown from a parent shoot. The same model in print as in plain fabric is not the same model at all. It is also possible to make a model serve as the basic idea for both an evening and an afternoon dress, all of which seems to prove the wisdom of following in the dainty footsteps of the frugal French.

The Irregular Hemline Is Developed For Daytime.

A Black Crepe Satin Frock Terminates in Cut Tiers That Occasionally Dip Below the Hemline. The Bodice Is Trimmed with Lines of Fagoting.

Such a model as is illustrated is entirely different in effect when a print is chosen instead of the black crepe satin pictured. The fitted skirt, exaggeratedly dipped at back or side, is applicable for evening, and might be easily reproduced, in lace, and appear altogether different than if taffeta, for example, were chosen.

The printed dress seems most to be desired when it is ruffled or ruffled. The woman who stays snugly at home is the one to rejoice in the pleated dress. It is a questionable travel companion, for unless of the permanent pleat variety, it is apt to be hard to keep in order.

Bias ruffles have a decided and decorative place in summer frocks. They are often not only bias in themselves, but arranged on a diagonal or in a spiral line.

Proposed by Phone

New York.—As the result of a proposal made by telephone from San Francisco to New York there is to be a wedding in Honolulu shortly. Warren Paulsen of Brooklyn, on a tour, called up Miss Eva Hewitt of Jackson Heights. She is now on her way to Hawaii and is going around the world on a honeymoon.

Label All Medicines

A mistake often made by parents or older people is to discard labels from medicines; this often causes serious results by people making a mistake in the medicine which they have taken.

Fastest Bird

The greatest speed of a bird's flight as yet recorded is that of the common swift of Eurasia, which, from an airplane, was observed to be making 70 miles an hour in normal flight.

Tub Silk Is Used for Summer Sports Frocks

Fashion has dignified the popular tub silk of former days and now uses it to develop some of the smartest new sports frocks for summer. An unusually chic sports frock of tub silk for general daytime wear is thus achieved in a model, worn by Renee Adoree, motion picture player, heroine of "The Cossacks." This two-piece sports costume is fashioned of red and white checked material, with the white predominating in the tub silk used for the band on the skirt, pockets and unusual kerchief which fashions the collar.

Original Creations in Pajamas and Negligees

Have you one of the newest negligees in your wardrobe?

The season fashion designers have turned their eyes and hands toward "intimate hours" apparel. The result has been a display of original creations in pajamas and negligees to warm the heart of every woman who loves to wear dainty, comfortable things for the afternoon siesta.

Pajama ensembles, in coat effects, veritably like an ensemble for street wear, are among the most important things in the fashion world today. Indeed, in these hectic days, milady is supposed to be "dressed" at every hour of the day. One is supposed to be quite suitably robed even if somebody drops in unexpectedly for tea. Thus the popularity of the "hostess own" negligees and pajama ensemble.

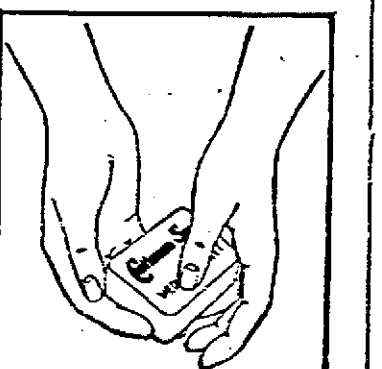

There is also the "bridge coat," made of hand-painted satin and the "tea coat" of brocaded chiffon. Both these additions to your wardrobe are the "dernier cri."

There is an obvious elegance in this negligee apparel. It marks a definite line in the femininity wave now apparent in the fashion world. We have returned from the straight-line masculine costume to fluffy ruffles and drapes.

Wrap-Over Slips Used for Chic Evening Frocks

For wear with united afternoon or evening frocks, wrap-over slips are used quite a bit and many of the evening slips made by the French dress-makers are of this sort. They have the advantage over the other type of slip that while they cannot possibly be too narrow around the hem, they hang in straight scant lines. This is important with some draped models.

But these new wrap-over slips are made with the opening at one side of the back so that when the wearer sits down there is no chance of the material falling apart. It is not difficult to make these new wrap-over slips. A fairly well-fitted top piece is needed with straps across the shoulder. This extends to the hips. Here is added the skirt section which for the slender woman need be just a straight piece of silk—of required length—and wide enough to pass around the body and lap over some 10 or 12 inches at the back. For stouter figures a little necessary fullness may be adjusted by means of small, well pressed plaits at the side.

"Flies have caused more deaths than all wars," says Major Ransom of the Medical Department of the United States Army. "Since the fly came into the world it has been synonymous with epidemics of pestilence and disease." Sunday Games in Times of "Good Queen Bess"

In the Elizabethan age of English history not the slightest of games, entertainments or "shows" could be given on Sunday without a special permit—and from the queen in person. We read that on April 20, 1563, one "John Secombe, poulterer, having four small children, and fallen into decay," was given a permit by good Queen Bess "to have and use some plays and games, at or upon several Sundays, for his better relief, comfort and sustenance."

The games to be permitted under the direction of this Elizabethan promoter included "the shooting with the standard, the shooting with the broad-arrow, the shooting at the Turk, the leaping for men, the wrestling, the throwing of the sledge, and the pitching of the bar."

Queen Bess advised the authorities to attend the games with "four or five good, substantial men" to keep the peace and prevent disorder.

No aching, burning feet for him now

Local bell-hop tells how Coolene gave him "new feet for old"

A BELL-HOP with crippled feet is about as useful as an iceman at the North Pole.

At least that's what Mr. James A. Parmelee, popular bell-hop at the Eagle Hotel, right here in Kingston discovered when his feet started to ache and grow calloused.

It got so bad he could hardly walk upstairs. He knew he just had to get rid of that awful burning and tired sensation; so he went about it in a sensible way. Here, in his own words, he tells just what happened:

"The best tip I ever got as a bell-hop was 'Coolene'. That's what my druggist told me when I complained about my feet being sore and tired. How they used to burn! I thought they'd start to smolder. But Coolene ended all that for good. I put some on in the evening and it stopped that awful burning that used to torture me so. I use it in the morning now, too—and my feet feel just great. Never a corn or a callous these days. It's like walking on buttered bread, all right!"

Coolene soothes and heals sore, aching feet—instantly! It contains rare, penetrating oils—and two world-old, soothing unguents—frankincense and myrrh, used by the ancients for centuries.

Get Coolene today. This wonderful healing cream takes all the burning and soreness out of corns, callouses, bunions and blisters. Coolene is ivory-white, greaseless, stainless. Easy to use. Vanishes instantly.

Relief guaranteed from burning, aching, tired feet—or its small cost refunded. Sold and recommended by good druggists everywhere, such as Benjamin Johnston Drug Store, Wm. F. Dedrick, McBride Drug Store, Kingston Central Pharmacy.

fair and candid dealings with others.

The Board of Directors have been indefatigable in their efforts to man- age this important and numerical body of firemen and are entitled to our favorable discrimination.

To one and all of our officers we recommend the extension of our highest appreciation.

Firemen's Home.

We all agree that the Firemen's Home at Hudson is an established in- stitution; yet the success attending our efforts in the past may be nulli- fied by inactivity in the future. It is of the utmost importance to us and adds to the reputation of our mem- bers if activities could be more pro- moted, the mere giving of small contributions does not complete our duties. Our influence should be ex- tended towards the uplift of fireman- ly humanity, when young and en- thusiastic our guests were performing arduous duties and they are now asking of us to give all of the assistance and encouragement we are capable of to the State Association. To pity distress is but human, to relieve it is God like.

Departed Brothers.

We have been informed that dur- ing the year last past our association has suffered losses by death; that George Gilmore, Highland Falls, N. Y.; M. W. Traver, Rhinebeck, N. Y.; Asbury Elliott, Katonah, N. Y.; Wil- liam G. Easton, Millburn, N. Y.; T. J. Leonard, Kingston, N. Y.; J. Bren- nan, Kingston, N. Y.; J. Horvath, Kingston, N. Y.; William H. Thomas, Canarsie, N. Y.; have been the vic- tims of the grave reaper; it is a fact that year after year we are recording the names of our associates who have been removed from our sight forever; it is a sad occasion, yet our every act, whether of labor or recreation, of duty or self indulgence brings us nearer to the final act which shall close our earthly career and calls us as we approach the end of life to look upon death in its true light as our secure rest from labor and fatigue, and a certain event of the transitory drama called existence, yet when death comes near to us and takes away one with whom we have been intimately associated, it is but natu- ral that we find ourselves regretting that those associates must submit to the unvarying law of nature. Life can be only characterized as a dream, a shadow, a watch in the night.

Let us therefore pay our tribute of respect and affection to the memory of our departed ones. Oblivion is the dark page whereon memory writes her light-beam character and makes them legible, were it all light nothing could be read there any more than if it were all darkness. How wonderful is death? Death is like one who wraps the drapery of his couch about him, and lies down to pleasant dreams; life is made up of so much light and so much darkness; so much sunshine and so much shadow that our friendship increases the light and sunshine and dispels the darkness and shadows.

We hear the voice of sorrow in the home of the departed but time will heal the wounds of bereavement.

Our Welcome.

In every municipality where we have held these sessions there seems to be a collective opinion that every effort should be made to provide for the welfare and pleasure of our mem- bers and visitors, each locality vies with the other to make our visit pleasant; while our minds revert to former visitations it just now cen- tralizes upon this, our thirty-ninth session.

The citizens, merchants and fire- men of this city have been indefat- igable in their efforts to make our pil- grimage here one of pleasure, willing hands are extended and kind words are spoken on every hand and instills in our hearts the thought that we are welcome. It has left an impress not subject to obliteration and in the future these acts will be the subject actuating us to inform our friends of the hospitality extended.

So general has been this welcome that it might be injudicious to espe- cially mention any particular body or individual, but we can not refrain from expressing our particular ac- knowledgment to Hon. E. J. Demp- sey who, in his address of welcome proclaimed his willingness to accord the freedom of the city and access to all public buildings.

To the local reception committee whose untiring efforts were so effec- tively commensurate that all thoughts of loneliness were banished.

To the Reverends Frank B. Seely and Francis X. FitzPatrick for their earnest supplications in our behalf and their advocacy of moral conduct and their interest in the welfare of our proceedings.

To the press for their complete re- port of this convention. We desire in this report to emphasize our ac- knowledgment and appreciation of the successful achievements of the officers and directors of this associa- tion during the year last past; duties interminable required the arduous of more than the ordinary human being, and it is an undeniable fact that they have performed their duties in a manner peculiarly brilliant, resulting in a successful administration, with a climax especially pleasing to those interested in our financial and numer- ical welfare.

In view of the above we desire to offer the following resolutions:

1. That the thanks of this associa- tion be extended to all of the local talent whose words of welcome so generously and unhesitatingly offered created a feeling of freedom while in this city.

2. That we extend to the local citi- zens and firemen our appreciation of the welcome extended and for the hospitality bestowed.

3. That we heartily endorse the principles and efforts of our officers and directors so willingly adminis- tered, and we believe that the results of their achievements will be a factor for the creation of a stronger orga- nization numerically and financially and that we will cherish the memory of their association with feelings of mingled pleasure and gratitude, and that we recognize the advantages of our fraternal intercourse during the year.

4. That our thanks be given to the Knights of Columbus for their many courtesies extended while we were occupying their beautiful and commodi- ous auditorium during our session.

5. That our hearts go out to all who have contributed to our pleasure or convenience making our stay in this city so comfortable and pleasur- able.

6. That our thanks be extended to the press of this city for the extended and unbiased reports of the proceed- ings of this convention.

7. That we extend to the families of our departed members our sincere sympathy in their bereavement; that their burden of sorrow is great is evi- dent, and may time heal their sorrow- ing hearts.

We desire to offer this special reso- lution:

The fact that our respected Presi- dent, George A. Kelley, is about to retire from the office gives us a prop- er opportunity to say what we have continuously thought.

It is resolved that all members are in accord with us in thanking our president for the correct, able and obliging manner in which he has per- formed the difficult and trying duties of his important office, and we do ex- press our regret that he is about to take leave of his official duties.

Resolved, That with him go the fervent wishes of all who have known him, that he may be as happy in pri- vate as he has been exemplary in pub- lic life; that whatever position of life he in future fill we wish him the greatest success. That while we have lost one of the very ablest presiding officers, we trust that he will still aid us with his wise counsel while we are positive that he will always watch our progress with infinite satisfaction.

Your committee met in pursuance of our laws at the Stuyvesant Hotel for the purpose of acting upon any and all resolutions presented to us. During that meeting a resolution offer- ed by James P. Whelan of Yon- kers was considered. The resolution after some changes was adopted as follows:

Resolved: That the president of the association be authorized to ap- point a committee of three for the purpose of purchasing badges to be presented to the chairman of the Board of Directors; secretary and treasurer; that said badges be simi- lar in design to the ones presented to the past presidents. That in order to entitle these officers to a badge of this description there must be a contin- uous service in the respective offices for a period of five years.

Your committee further reports that the proposition offered by the Musicians' Union at the session of June 19 was thoroughly discussed by Mr. Ward, the local president of such union, and after hearing the opinion of disinterested persons present at such meeting the resolution was with- drawn and the following was adopted:

Resolved: That the proposition em- bodied in the resolution be referred to the Board of Directors and the Executive Board of the American Federation of Musicians, and we recommend that the Board of Direc- tors take such action as soon as prac- ticable; and as they may consider ju- dicious with a view of settling the music question on a workmanlike policy for future conventions.

Monkey Still Eludes Capture

The escaped monkey from the Walter L. Maine circus continues to indulge in "monkey-shines" about the city. Wednesday afternoon he put on a special performance for the benefit of the visiting firemen at the store of Gregory & Company on Broadway. Mr. Monk apparently enjoyed the act as did a couple of hundred people who gathered while a couple of employees of the store tried to catch him.

The monkey was first seen on Van Buren street and from there climbed to the roof of the addition to the Gregory store. There he enjoyed himself while the men prepared to bag the monkey. With blankets and bags they started after the monkey. He was finally cornered on the roof and when he saw that was in the air, he gracefully climbed the water conductor to the roof of the main building where he continued to enjoy himself.

When one of the capturers arrived on the roof the monkey slid half way down the water spout and entertained the crowd with his innocent stunts and actions. Unable to be persuaded to come down or go up, the monkey finally tired of the location and with a graceful leap sprang over to some electric light wires and then back into a tree twenty feet away. The captors left with empty bags.

Beauty on the Stage

"American actresses are especially distinguished for their beauty," a French playwright recently said, "because Americans rate that quality so high. In France we put talent so far ahead of looks that, although we have many fascinating women on our stage, we have few beauties."—Eileen Bourne, in Liberty.

The reopening of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Modena took place Tuesday evening, June 19, after the church had been closed for over a year to be repaired and renovated. On account of the rainy weather, there was not as large an assemblage as was anticipated. The services were opened with a prayer by District Superintendent J. J. Henry of Newburgh, followed by the Scripture reading by the Rev. W. J. Taylor of Plattkill Methodist Church.

The Rev. Frank E. Ray, pastor of Modena Methodist Church, then introduced the Rev. Forrest Edwards, now stationed at Monroe, N. Y., who voiced his congratulations, appreciation of attending this meeting and pleasure at renewing acquaintances made during his pastorate here years ago.

The presence of J. Ostrander, of Tarrytown, N. Y., a former superintendent of the Sunday school, was announced, and a request for a speech was made, but although Mr. Ostrander responded to the greeting he declined to make a speech.

The Rev. Mr. Lyons of Coxsack, who was detained from the meeting by awaiting the results of the regatta at Highland, was introduced by the Rev. Mr. Ray. After his brief talk was ended, the Rev. Mr. Ray read letters of regret from former pastors, who were prevented from attending the important occasion.

Dr. Henry, requiring no introduction, spoke in his characteristic humorous manner, relating much of his recent trip to Missouri where he attended the Methodist Convention. It was at this convention, where delegates assembled from all parts of the world in behalf of Christianity, that Dr. Henry received the message, requesting his presence at the reopening of the Modena Methodist Church, which was, as he termed it, a "come back" message.

As they say in Missouri: During the services, hymns were sung by the assemblage and solo, beautifully rendered by Mrs. F. E. Ray, assisted by Mrs. Orville Seymour at the pipe organ. The Rev. Mr. Ray told of the many improvements made to the church and parsonage, spoke of the credit due the benefactors in various ways. Much credit to be given the Rev. R. C. Reynolds, whose absence was keenly regretted. Expenses were announced and the singing pastorello caused the assemblage which responded with subscriptions amounting to over eleven hundred dollars. At the conclusion of the pledging of donations to lower the church debt, a hymn was sung. Dr. Henry pronounced the benediction and singing of the Doxology ended the services of the reopening of the church.

The church presents a splendid appearance in its new decorations as well as its old ones, for the lighting fixtures, though equipped with electricity, are the same chandeliers and side wall lamps which were in the church at the time of its erection in the year 1854.

Increase of Life's Span
Since the sixteenth century the average span of human life has been increased from 21 to 50 years, according to data presented by the Pennsylvania department of health. Better living conditions, more effective ways of combating and controlling disease and more extensive health education are the chief factors responsible for this lengthening of life.

This New RADIOLA 18 will put you right inside the Convention. Platform seats to watch the great battle for the Presidential nomination. The hands, the cheering, the dominating speeches, the polling of the states—this wonderful new Radiola 18 will give you the whole thrilling drama.

Local Boxers on Armory Card Are Given Setbacks

Only One of Four Local Fighters to Win—Voslick Substituting for Riley Is Defeated by Mickey Taylor in Main Bout.

Voslick, local National Guard fighter, substituted for "Red" Riley in the main bout of the Armory boxing show at the Kingston Legion boxing show at the Armory Wednesday night, dropped to the hard hitting, Mickey Taylor of New Jersey. Although the decision was unanimous by the judges of this city, Jack Rose of Rosendale and Referee Joseph Hepburn of New York it was met with boos when announced by Samuel A. Riber, Kingston Joe's manager.

Charlie Molvin, protege of "Doc" Fisher, former trainer of the late "Fighting" Flowers, was the only one of the four Kingston scrappers to win a win at the Armory Wednesday night. He finished Young Jackson in the first stanza after two minutes and 40 seconds of battling. He was credited with a technical knockout.

Frank Choused Voslick. Joe Voslick received a big hand when he entered the ring against Mickey Taylor. The Saugerties lad, who tipped the scales at 160, assumed a cool attitude from the start and tried all the boxing tricks he could muster together in order to make a showing against the more experienced Taylor. His opponent, a 158 pounder, fought like a tiger and punished Voslick with hard blows to the ribs in the clinches that occurred often in the eighth round setto. Taylor had the edge in the first and second round. Voslick tried a left jab on him in the third and kept Taylor away for a while by sticking into his face. Taylor settled down in the fourth and watched for every opening that would permit a solar plexus wallop. He landed several but they lacked the real kick. In the fifth Voslick's second evidently advised him to go in and fight Taylor, who was the aggressor, instead of using the boxing method. If Joe had continued the way he started the round Taylor would undoubtedly have punished him severely for Joe was battling in the form Mickey liked. During the sixth, seventh and eighth Voslick went back to the boxing style. The last two mention-

Late Rallies Win For West Shore

After having the game stowed in the bag the Hercules powder team exploded in the last inning and allowed the West Shore team to romp away with a 9-6 victory in an extra inning contest at the Athletic Field Wednesday evening.

With the score 6-4 against the Railroaders and two out in the last inning Lay singled to give them a start. Carpenter hit a fly to Nipka, and had been over, but he dropped it. Al Bush then left Williams' grounder go through him and the score was tied. Lay and Carpenter scoring on the error.

In the eighth inning it was the same story as the seventh. After two Railroaders were put out, Hider singled, and McAlliff was safe on Ira Maurer's error. Rider took third and scored on passed balls. R. McGuire singled and scored with McAlliff on Lay's hit, the fourth of the game. Two of his clouts went for two bases. The Railroaders scored their other runs in the fourth and fifth, getting one in the fourth and three in the fifth.

Hits by McGrath, Avery, Palen and Nipka netted the T. N. T. boys three runs in the second inning. They registered three more in the third on two hits, a hit batsman and an error. After that they were subdued by Horie McAlliff, the West Shore pitcher.

When McAlliff went in the pitcher's box it was the first time he has done so in four years. He was hit hard at the beginning of the contest, but tightened up after the third inning. He was opposed on the mound by Chick Maurer. Both pitchers allowed 10 hits. Both teams played loose in the field.

KINGSTONIANS TO ATTEND VOLLEY BALL MEETING

Frank N. "Pop" Hinds, physical director of the Y. M. C. A. and Tom Morrissey, one of Kingston's most enthusiastic volley ball exponents, will be guests at a meeting and banquet in the Yale Club, New York city, Friday, June 22, when the formation of a National Volley Ball Association will be discussed. Both men are intensely interested in volley ball and will do all they can to further the formation of the association. Local "Y" heads consider it an honor that the Kingston men were invited to the meeting.

"Pop" Hinds, who has conducted one of the most successful year's work in the athletic department of the "Y", will leave Kingston on June 30 for five weeks. The time he will be away from home will be spent in the summer school of Springfield College, where he will take an extension course.

LOCAL "Y" MEN IN EASTERN TRACK MEET

The local Y. M. C. A. will be represented in a big eastern track meet to be held at Hartford, Conn., on Saturday, June 23. The men who will represent Kingston are getting ready to do their best in the meet. Trophies and medals for individual winners will be awarded. The Kingston "Y" will be represented by the following men: Metcalf, 229-yard dash; Clark, 199-yard dash; Corrigan, 3-mile race; Thompson, 1-mile race; Watts, 440-yard run; Fuchsle, 889-yard run; Parks and Lebert, high jump. The newly-organized Colonel A. C. will meet the Clermonts at the Kingston Fair Grounds on Sunday, June 24, at 2 p. m.

Tagging Major League Bases

(Associated Press Sports Writer.)

The ferocious 180 lb. buster, for whom the Yankees have paid $100,000, has been tagged by the Athletics following a pass to Cobb in the eighth.

The Yankees put the runner on base on the shot to the outfield when Orwoll was knocked out by a line drive, which was caught by the Athletics. The Athletics were tagged by the Yankees in the eighth, 5 to 3. The Athletics were tagged by the Yankees in the eighth, 5 to 3. The Athletics were tagged by the Yankees in the eighth, 5 to 3.

Not satisfied with Walter J. Rife's triple, which outscored Billy Vance on Tuesday, the Phils jumped on Jumbo Elliott and Domo McAlliff for enough hits to win the second game of the Brooklyn series yesterday, 6 to 2.

Hab Pruett, whose chief claim to fame is that he fanned Babe Ruth ten times one season, turned in a neat game for the Baker boys, and Don Hurst helped with his eighth home run.

The Cardinals made it ten out of eleven and increased their lead over the Reds to four full games by taking the series opener from the Cubs in Chicago yesterday, 6 to 2. Jess Haines outpitched both Percy Lee Jones and Guy Bush. A majestic home run by Grimm, the Chicago first baseman, was purely decorative.

The Reds slipped further back toward the Giants as the Pirates made up a bit of ground by shading Eppa Rixey, 2 to 1. More heartening to Pirate fans than the victory itself was the fact that Ray Kremer flashed in achieving it. After lumbering through an unsteady spring, Kremer won from the Reds with a margin of only one run and his team outlived by 11 to 8. Traynor dashed home from first on a single to score the winning marker.

The Giants, scheduled in Boston, probably did not expect to play. They did not play—at any event—for the fifth time in six scheduled days in the hub. The clan McGraw now faces eight games in four days at Braves' Field in September, even if the rain lets up today.

After the first two skirmishes of what has been facetiously referred to as a "crucial" series, the Yankees and the Athletics are just where they were before it started—which the Yankees can very well afford to be, but which the Athletics can not.

Connie Mack astounded the bursters by permitting old Jack Quinn to remain in the box through a five run fusillade by the champions in the third round of the opener at the Yankee Stadium yesterday, and old Yankee rewarded his master by coming through to a 10 to 5 victory. The veteran spitballer himself drove in the ultimate winning run with a single in the sixth.

The Athletics reached Herb Pennock for thirteen hits in five and one-third innings, but were just ahead, 6 to 5, until Wiley Moore crumbled in the ninth. Old Man Quinn, who once was jerked from a two-hit game by the impatient Connie, was strong in the pinches after the one Yankee flurry.

George Pipgras and Ossie Orwoll made as if to go through with a pitchers' battle in the second game, but the stadium was saved from this indignity when the batters finally came to life. Grabowski slapped a home run for the Yanks in the seventh after Lazzari and Robertson had singled, and Al Simmons repeated the process in behalf of the Athletics following a pass to Cobb in the eighth.

The Yankees put the runner on base on the shot to the outfield when Orwoll was knocked out by a line drive, which was caught by the Athletics. In the battle of the lower leagues Washington consolidated its position with place and momentum by trimming the Red Sox, 5 to 1. Clark and Bracon allowed Boston just four hits and never was in any danger.

The railroad White Sox dashed a pair with the shipping Indians in Cleveland, winning the first of a two game series 4 to 3.

Several local boxers will be on the card to be staged at the Poughkeepsie ball park on Thursday, June 25. Leo Smith, Kingstonian, who is connected with the running of the arena, matched the Kingston scrappers for their tilts.

Johnny Carpio, who has not been active in ring circles for several months, is scheduled for six rounds with Stanley Eld. Carpio now weighs 110 pounds and is in good shape. He trains at the Stander gym.

Charlie Fisher, former National Guard boxer, will take on Jerry Sampers in a four rounder. Fisher intends to make a good showing after a layoff of considerable length.

Joe Myers will also do four rounds with Kid Buck. It is said that Myers will have a tough time with Buck, who has been battling in road fashion of late.

In the main bout at Poughkeepsie Frankie Konechna will meet Eddie Clarke, sensational colored middleweight.

"OLD GOLD'S smoothness," says Tommy Armour....
"is what won me in the blindfold test!"

Mr. Armour smoked each of the four leading brands of cigarettes while blindfolded, taking a sip of coffee between smokes. He picked the fourth cigarette, which proved to be an Old Gold.

Heart-leaf tobacco makes the difference... even in the dark

Three words describe OLD GOLD'S superiority... heart-leaf tobacco. Not heavy, coarse top-leaves of the tobacco plant that irritate the throat. Not withered ground-leaves that affect the taste. Only golden ripe heart-leaves give OLD GOLD their honey-like smoothness. That is why you can pick them... even in the dark.

"I know, after the first few holes, whether or not I'm going to be good... and when I was blindfolded and given four cigarettes to smoke, I chose Old Gold because the first few puffs told me that this cigarette was right! I knew that it was going to be good. Like the effortless, easy swing of a fine golfer, Old Gold's delightful smoothness tells a story of perfect form."

Nobile Sends Directions for Rescue of Party

Gives Some Instructions About Procedure in Rescuing His Party—Relief Attempts Turn to Sixteen Other Men Missing in the North.

King's Bay, Greenland, June 21.—(By The Associated Press.)—The rescue of the party of six men who were stranded on the ice of the North Atlantic, was today given up. The party of six men who were stranded on the ice of the North Atlantic, was today given up. The party of six men who were stranded on the ice of the North Atlantic, was today given up.

The general and the five men with him, who have been short of food and in a difficult position since May 23 when the drifting Italia met with disaster on its return from the North Pole, was in wireless communication with the base ship Clitta Di Milano concerning the present situation.

Before giving these directions concerning the rescue plans, however, Nobile expressed his gratitude to Maddalena and the assistant pilot of the Savoia-Marchetti-55 as well as to Major Mercanti, director-general of the Italian aviation department who organized the relief expedition and gave up his seat in the plane so that more fuel might be carried.

In fact the first words of Nobile's message were:

"I kiss and embrace the two fliers and Mercanti."
